Ten years after retirement, Sachin still a top choice for brands

Even after ten years of retirement from cricket, Sachin Tendulkar remains a top choice among Indian advertisers. Despite the belief that cricketers have a shorter shelf life when it comes to brand endorsements, Tendulkar currently promotes 15 brands, according to a report by The Economic Times (ET). These include ITC's Savlon, Spinny, Apollo Tyres and JioCinema. According to the Celebrity Brand Valuation Report, 2022, released earlier by Kroll, Tendulkar's current valuation is $73.6 million. The ET report said he currently charges Rs 7-8 crore per year for an endorsement deal.

Six Regulatory Changes in Insurance and ITR Rules You Should Know

IRDAI has been engaging with various stakeholders to ensure robust development and smooth implementation of its supervisory framework for the interest of the public. The Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) introduced nearly half a dozen important changes for the insurance sector. Here are some of the important amendments to the rules.

IRDAI announced to implement a risk-based supervisory framework in a shift towards global best supervision practices, focusing on “proportionality” and “materiality” that relies on a holistic analysis of the regulated entities’ activities from a risk perspective.

In another circular, IRDAI has also directed life insurers to make available suitable insurance products as required under the Assisted Reproductive Technology (Regulation) Act, 2021, and Surrogacy Act, 2021. This will allow more people to have access to suitable insurance products as required under the law, ensuring wider insurance penetration in the country.

In addition, for policyholders’ protection, IRDAI has issued guidelines to fast-track insurance settlements for flood victims in North India.

In a separate order, the regulator has cautioned the public on the unregistered entity Bhartiya Cooperative General Insurance Limited soliciting insurance services, primarily crop insurance. IRDAI has clarified that no registration has been granted to the firm to undertake insurance business and advised the public to refrain from doing any transaction with the entity.

IRDAI has also simplified the approval process for launching life insurance products for the ease of doing business. Now, life insurers can launch group unit-linked and individual unit-linked insurance products without the authority’s prior approval.

It is expected to boost innovation, resulting in better product choices for customers and encourage swift response to market demands.

ITR & Penalty

In the taxation area, the I-T Department has asked the Non-Resident Indian (NRIs) and the Overseas Citizens of India (OCIs) to update their residential status with supporting documents to reactivate their PAN cards which may have become inoperative due to the non-linking of their PAN cards with Aadhaar, and disclose foreign assets, if any, while filing Income Tax Returns (ITR). So, NRIs and OCIs can reactivate their PAN cards and avoid Rs 10 lakh in penalty for non-disclosure of foreign assets by following the guidelines provided by the I-T Department.

Chandrayaan -3 Launch

On July 14, 2023, India's third mission to moon took off with Chandrayaan -3 launch. The mission aims to achieve what its predecessor could not. It is designed to land softly on the lunar surface and explore it with a rover. A successful soft landing will make India the fourth country, after the United States, Russia and China to achieve the feat. The position remains vacant after the missions from Israel and India in 2019 crash landed and the spacecraft carrying a lander-rover from Japan and a rover from UAE failed in 2022.
